OMUG Communications

As most of you know our newsletter will be in hiatus for a while, so here is what is planned to fill the gap. Most of these are already being used, but they will be expanded in scope so that OMUG members can continue to get timely information.

OMUG Web - Get meeting information, member information, meeting minutes, meeting/workshop notes, tips for new users, reference documents, and more. OMUG Website

OMUG Tech Blog - Get periodic tech tips, links to current technical information, reviews of apps, and more. New content will be added several times a week. The weekly TechBits will now appear on the Tech Blog. The Tech Blog is still under development so you may notice changes from time-to-time. OMUG Tech Blog

OMUG Forum - Here is where you can ask questions, get help, offer help, advertise items for sale. The Forum will also be used to provide notices to members so all members should register. OMUG Discussion Forum

Email - We will also send occasional emails, as needed.

Mugshot - Although new issues won't be published for a while, all the past issues are available in the newsletter archive. Newsletter Archives

1. IMAP - delete the account and set it up again
2. Restore from TimeMachine
3. Restore from Clone backup
   `~/Library/Mail`

Tip I Can't Open a Downloaded App

Error message:

The app can't be opened because it was not downloaded from the Mac App Store"
```

This is a safety feature in OS X to block malware. If you trust the source you can load the app by holding the shift key down when you click the icon. Then select "Open" and you will be able to install the app.
